Bend Oregon : Reception

Where you have your reception is as important as where you have your wedding. When planning your wedding reception, you will want to ask many questions of any prospective reception location. Is on site catering offered? Can you have a menu tasting before committing to that location? Do they provide seating? Is decorating included in the price? How many hours apart do they book receptions? Are they available for your wedding date-and if so, how far in advance do you have to reserve that date?

Being fully informed about a reception location before hand will help you avoid any embarrassing surprises and ensure that your special day is just that, special.

To help you locate a Reception location in the Bend, Oregon area, we have listed the following locations along with capacity:
